Summerville's Park and Recreation Director Named President of the South Carolina Recreation and Park Association

SUMMERVILLE, S.C. (Thursday, November 15, 2018) – Doyle Best, the Town of Summerville's Park and Recreation Director, has been named the 73rd President of the South Carolina Recreation and Park Association (SCRPA). He was inaugurated at SCRPA's annual conference on Wednesday, November 14, 2018 in Greenville.

Best started working for the Town of Summerville as a Recreation Specialist in 2010. He worked his way up and was named Parks and Recreation Director in 2012. Best is responsible for the management and maintenance of all parks, recreation facilities, and green spaces throughout the Town as well as the planning, design, and construction of new facilities.

"I am extremely proud of Doyle's new achievement," Colin Martin, Summerville Town Administrator, said. "Doyle goes above and beyond daily. His new position as President of the SCRPA is proof of his professionalism, hard work, and dedication. I know he will represent Summerville and South Carolina very well."

"Becoming President of the SCRPA is an honor and privilege. I'm excited for the opportunity to take on new challenges while serving the incredible parks and recreation professionals across our state," Best said.

Best's term will run through September 2019.

The South Carolina Recreation and Parks Association is a non-profit organization dedicated to the professional development of its members and advocacy for parks, recreation and tourism opportunities in South Carolina.
